JOTTINGS.

Celebrate Independence Day. Bob Christy will have fireworks on hand in large quantities.

J. F. Aitken can be always relied upon if you give him an order for wood, and he will furnish logs wherever wanted.

There is no discount on the purity of Thistle Dew. The only place it is kept in town is at Plummer's, the druggist.

If you want a daily, weekly or monthly journal, and a good cigar to smoke while reading, go to C. A. Thurston's.

Jesse Longabaugh is the agent for the well-known Studebaker wagon, and can furnish vehicles to suit the purse of all.

Read the serial "Ten Days in the Mountains," the first chapter of which appears on the fourth page of this issue.

The women and the hungry patronize the Pioneer House, because it is being run to suit the times. Meals and bed twenty cents each.

If you want fresh fruits, choice can goods, the best sugar, or anything else in the grocery line, go to W. M. Henor's on Virginia street.

A grand ball will be given at Laugh-ton's Springs on the evening of the 23 instant. An enjoyable time is assured to all. Everybody invited.

If you are tired and thirsty about noon there is no better place to rest than at J. Becker's, while indulging in one of his lunches and a glass of beer.

Fishermen, hunters and sporting men can all find goods used in their several lines at Brookins', and those who write can get the best brands of paper there.

No need for ladies to send away for stockings, mittens, etc. Miss Gibbs has a complete stock of arm-ware, chenille, flosserie, embroidery, knitting silk, etching cotton, and crewels constantly on hand.

When you need blank books of all kinds, writing fluid, pocket books, school blanks, millinery, slate school books, slate pencils, lead pencils, rubber erasers and slate erasers, call at Thurston's.

Don't Experiment.

You cannot afford to waste time in experimenting when your lungs are in danger. Consumption always seems at first only a cold. Do not permit any dealer to impose upon you with some cheap imitation of Dr. King's New Discovery in Consumption, Coughs and Colds, but let me tell you get the genuine. Because he can make more profit he may tell you he has something just as good, or just the same. Don't be deceived, but insist upon getting Dr. King's New Discovery, which is guaranteed to give relief in all throat, lung and chest affections. Trial bottle free at Hodgkinson & Co's drug store. Large bottles $1.00.

Five Thousand Dollars Reward

For a better or more pleasant remedy for the cure of consumption, bronchial troubles, cough, croup and whooping cough than Santa Ana, the California king of consumption, there are very few warranted. If you would be cured of that disgusting disease, consult us. California Cal-R-Cure, 31 A. jar; by mail $1.00. Santa Able and Cal-R-Cure are sold and warranted by Gubers & Sheesaker.

PERSONAL.

J. R. Shaw and James Scott of Dayton are in town.

Billy Smith and Fred Heitman are here from Eureka.

Frank Sperling, the well-known insurance agent, is in town.

F. M. Huffaker, the well-known Comstock attorney, is in town.

P. J. Dunn, Deputy U. S. Collector spent yesterday in Reno.

R. P. M. Kelly, who is now engaged on the Comstock, breathed home air yesterday.

Judge Curier of Hawthorne is in attendance on the Odd Fellows Grand Encampment.

Professor Leroy D. Brown, President of the State University, departed last night for Honolulu.

Professor N. A. Hummel, the popular schoolmaster of Wadsworth, was in Reno last night.

Ben Scheeline of the Reno Liquor Company returned from a business trip to Sierra valley yesterday.

L. Fredrick, the well-known jeweler, has returned from California, but is still unimproved in health.

Tom Robinson from Newark, White Pine county, yesterday passed through Reno to Virginia City.

Dr. Hazelt's pleasant face is to be seen on the street. He represents Dayton at the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows.

William Pardy, a prominent citizen of Eureka, arrived in town Saturday evening to attend the Odd Fellows' grand pow-wow.

Billy Rogers of Elko is talking as much and as fast as ever. He will drive all the other Odd Fellows out of town if he keeps on.

R. T. Hofer of the Bullion and Exchange Bank, Carson, came up from the B. Y. this morning and took the V. & T. train for Carson City.

A. H. Ricketts, attorney formerly of Virginia City and now of San Francisco, is here attending to some important legal business.

State Treasurer Tufly, A. M. McCabe and George W. Chedieck of Carson are representing the Old Fellow's Lodges of the Capital City.

L. A. Greenlaw, representing the firm of Manning & Jaques, and James B. Bloor of the GAZETTE, returned from their northern trip yesterday.

Ex-Governor Bladell came up from San Francisco yesterday morning, and left for Pine Grove, Emerald county, where he has mining interests.

James Griffin, road master between here and Winnemucca, formerly residing at the Humboldt House, brought his family here last night, and will make Reno his home.

B. F. Wallace, George Hennig, E. C. Mack and Charley Brown of Virginia are doing a little Odd Fellows business and a good deal of spinning around town.

A POOR OUTLOOK.

A short Crop of Hay throughout the Sagebrush Country.

The present year will be a hard one on ranchers throughout Nevada, and our neighbors to the north—Long valley, Sierra valley and Honey Lake valley—are no better situated. From reports received from reliable sources from every section, the GAZETTE is in a position to state that not one-half of an average crop of hay will be harvested this season. This means that the farmers of the Tru-meadows will be called upon to feed nine-tenths of the beef cattle which will be shipped to market from Nevada, and the country tributary to it. In the eastern part of the State the hay crop is almost a total failure; in the country south of Carson, notably in the usually prolific valleys of that section, but half a average crop will award the laborers of the tillers of the soil; in Long valley the same state of affairs exist, and in the great feeding valleys of the north—Sierra and Honey Lake—wails—deplorable lack of hay is announced. This means a high price for hay, and a corresponding increase in the price of beef. Further, the beef supply will be short and cut few head of grass-fed cattle will find their way to market. In truth, the fact that heavy losses of cattle will ensue if the winter proves severe, stares the cattlemen in the face. Already there are rumors of cattlemen endeavoring to dispose of their cattle at small figures, and the indications are that there will be a great fall in the price of stock cattle throughout the sagebrush country.

The newly-elected officers were duly installed, and at the hour of going to press the reports of the various committees were being received and considered.

250 BEAUTIFUL LOTS FOR SALE!

From $200 to $600!

A Rare Chance for Investment and a Home.

THE MOST LOVELY PORTION OF RENO.

FACING THE TRUCKEE—THE ARISTOCRATIC RIVERSIDE AVENUE DRIVEWAY—SPLENDID SEWERAGE—HEALTHFUL LOCATION AND SAFE FROM FIRE.

The proprietor is now ready to receive proposals for lots in Powning's Addition. The map gives a good idea of the Tract, which is situated between the Central Pacific Railroad and the Truckee River, and commences on the west at a point three blocks distant from Virginia street, making it the most central and convenient of any portion of the rapidly growing town of Reno. Unlike any other part of the town, this addition faces the beautiful Truckee River, and Riverside avenue is certain to become the fashionable driveway of the country. The streets are 80 feet wide, while Riverside and Keystone avenues are intended to be 100 feet in width. All alleys are 20 feet wide. The soil is a rich gravelly loam, and susceptible of the highest state of cultivation. Being situated as it is, it is more exempt from fire than any other section. The regular lots are 50x140 feet. The sewerage is perfect.

Before buying elsewhere. Parties will do well to look at these lots.

Hall's VEGETABLE SICILIAN Hair Renewer.

Hall's Hair Renewer restores gray hair to its original color; makes the scalp white and clean; cures dandruff and humors; prevents the hair from falling out, and renders it soft and brilliant. The editor of the "Ocean Foam," Cape May, writes: "We speak knowingly, when we assert that Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer is the best of its kind. The article is an elegant and cleanly one, without which we think no toilet complete." Thos. D. Jones, Middle Granville, N. Y., writes: "I have used

The advance of time is heralded by bleached, thin, and falling hair. By the use of Hall's Hair Renewer, the hair may be restored to its original color, lustre, and vitality. M. N. Johnson, Fieldburg, Mass., writes: "My hair was weak, thin, and full of dandruff. Hall's Hair Renewer has removed the dandruff, and caused a vigorous growth of new hair." Abel H. Smith, Portsmouth, Va., writes: "My hair had nearly all fallen out, and that which was left was dry and dead. I used one bottle of Hall's Hair Renewer, and now rejoice in the possession of hair as abundant as ever." E. J. Adams, St. Paul, Minn., writes: "A diseased scalp caused my hair to fall out, and, after using a number of preparations without avail, I finally tried Hall's Hair Renewer, which caused a vigorous new growth. I am still using it, and could ask for no better results." Mrs. R. H. Corning, Battle Creek, Mich., writes: "By the use of Hall's Hair Renewer, my head, which was quite bald, has been covered with a fine growth of young hair."

Hall's Hair Renewer,

TEN DAYS IN THE MOUNTAINS.

CHAPTER I.

In which Our Story Begins.

"Lillian, don't you think everything here is charming?" The speaker Hazel Wilber, was a young girl of about nineteen, with short, curly, brown hair, and hazel eyes, which had given her her name.

Her companion, Lillian Douglass, bright girl of about the same age, was taller, with dark brown eyes and long golden hair, worn in a very becoming style at the back of her head.

"Well, Hazel, as we have only been here such a short time, I can not say whether I like everything or not, but certainly the lake, with its blue-green tint and large trees drooping over the banks, deserve all praise."

"I think we will have great fun on the steamer, too!"

"Here comes Frank and some one with him, Mr. Ross, I suppose. I wonder what he will be like. Only interested in rocks and fossils?"

"Like you, aunt Priscilla," interrupted Hazel.

"Shame on you, naughty girl! But here they are."

Frank Morgan, a pleasant-looking young man, now introduced his companion. "My cousin, Miss Douglass; Mr. Ross, Miss Wilber," then threw himself down on the grass, and the stranger, a tall, fine-looking young man, with dark eyes and hair, and black moustache, seated himself by Lillian's side.

"We were very sorry you were unable to meet us in the city, and continue your journey with us, Mr. Ross," said Lillian.

"I too was disappointed, but I could not reach the city until after you had started. You know I came West by the Southern Pacific, and meeting some friends at Los Angeles was detained there."

"Lillian," interrupted Frank,

"where are the rest of the party?"

"They have gone to the hotel, and I think we had better follow them, while Campbell completes the arranging of our tents and cottage."

Accordingly, they proceeded to the pleasant hotel, where on the wide porch among many other guests, sat a tall gentleman, wearing glasses, and with him a pleasant looking, fleshy little lady. Beside her sat a tall, thin lady with a very long nose, squinting eyes, hair of the peculiar shade of red known as "brick" and a confirmed habit of attending to other people's affairs. These proved to be Frank's brother and his wife, Dr. and Mrs. Morgan, and Miss Priscilla Morgan, an elder sister of the doctor. Aunt Priscilla was very careful never to tell her age, but the doctor, who was not so cautious, acknowledged to being forty-nine.

Looking into the parlor on the way to the dining-room, Lillian observed a small boy standing on a table, gazing attentively at a curious looking animal in the cabinet. One careless movement would have upset the table, and boy, books, pictures and roses would have been a confused mass on the floor.

"Oh, Ted, you troublesome boy, get down, and come and have something to eat."

Ted, the doctor's only child, obeyed as he always did if there was anything to be gained by so doing, and noticing the stranger, ran up to him, and said, "Oh, are you Mr. Ross? Uncle Frank told Lillian she would be sure to fall in love with you!"

At this unexpected and rather startling remark, Lillian quickly turned away, her face covered with blushes. Hazel and Frank exchanged glances, and Aunt Priscilla merely said "Ahem!" Mrs. Morgan came to the rescue, saying, "Come children, dinner is waiting," and led the way to a large temptingly spread table. After dinner the party seated themselves on the porch, and with merry talk and laughter the time passed so rapidly that all were amazed when Mrs. Morgan said, "It is eleven o'clock, and I am sure our travelers need rest."

So goodnights were said, and the party separated to dream sweet dreams of the happy days to come.

Why endure sleepless nights, with that dry backache, country aches, & intense Cough, Bright's Disease, will give you rest. It contains no Opium. Price, 75 cents. Sold by W. P. McGuire. All genuine Aberrant preparations bear the incisive signature of Dr. F. Frer.
